OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true
Arise and defend it ye sons of the brave
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 10, 1862

Benjamin Stark, Senator and Representative of the Secession Party of Oregon.

Some week or two since, the organ of the secession party about Portland, the Daily Advertiser, published certain statements and evidence transmitted from Portland to Hon Wm. H. Seward, Secretary of State, at Washington, in relation to the disloyalty of Senator Stark. Those statements and that evidence were communicated to the Senate, and was printed by order of that body. It came into our hands in due time, but we chose not to publish it, because we did not wish unnecessarily to injure the feelings of Mr Stark's friends, and because we do not make war upon Mr. Stark personally—until, with brazen impudence, it was presented to our people in the columns of the Advertiser. We then gave the matter to the public in our paper, without comment.

Mr Stark was given a seat in the Senate. This was done on the ground that he had a right to claim it, and that if his loyalty to Government was impeached, it should be done while he occupied a seat as a member of the Senate. On taking his seat, Mr Stark presented resolutions asking an investigation of the case. We understand that the Senate referred the papers to a select committee. That committee has reported that Senator Stark was a disloyal citizen previous to his appointment of Senator. We have not heard of any further action of the Senate on the subject.

We now design to present, in a condensed form, a summary of the evidence in support of the averment of the disloyalty of Senator Stark, which was transmitted to the Secretary of State from Portland—with the single remark that the Advertiser, which presented itself as the champion of Mr Stark, has not attempted to impeach said evidence.

And in the first place, a letter to Wm H Seward, Secretary of State, is given, wherein it is said:

"Mr. Stark, is a resident here, and personally known to us all, has been, for the past twelve months, an ardent advocate of the rebellious States. He has openly avowed his sympathies with the South, declaring the Government disrupted, and openly expressing his admiration for the Constitution of the Confederate States, and advocating the absorption of the loyal States of the Union in the Southern Confederacy under that Constitution, as the only means of restoring peace, thus advocating the surrender of our Government to the so-called Confederate States. Mr Stark has thus expressed himself publicly, and has in consequence, been recognized as the most prominent and bold of the advocates of secession in this State. He has been selected by Governor Whitaker, doubtless, in consequence of his secession proclivities; thus outraging the sentiment of the PEOPLE of Oregon, a large majority of whom are loyal to the Union.

Accompanying this communication, will be found affidavits from reliable citizens, in confirmation of the statements herein made concerning Mr. Stark."

The following is a summary of the averments in the affidavits:

Wesley C. Hall testifies, that "in the month of February, 1861, he heard said Benjamin Stark make use of the following language in substance at the Postoffice in the city of Portland: 'If there be any war between the North and South, all my property is for sale at fifty cents on the dollar, and I will go and help the South fight.' The Palmetto flag is my flag. The Southern Confederacy is the only legal government in existence, that the United States Government is broken up; that Jeff Davis is fighting in a good cause, and it will be impossible to defeat him.' That afterwards, upon another occasion, affiant heard said Benjamin Stark make use of the following language: 'The United States forces may fight the South from one end of their government to the other, but it will amount to nothing. They will close up behind them, and they can not be conquered. The South is fighting in a good cause, for government and order, and they cannot be conquered.'"

Henry Law deposed that "He is personally acquainted with Benjamin Stark, of the city of Portland, county and State aforesaid, and has been for five years, and has heard the said Stark use the following language: That on the 19th of December, 1860, I heard Stark say he did not go one cent on the Stars and Stripes; that the Palmetto was his flag, and if there was any issue between the North and South, he would sell all his property and go South, and in a subsequent conversation in the latter part of April, 1861, I asked said Stark why he did not sell his property and go South. said Stark gave as a reason he could not find a 'black' who had money enough to buy him out; and affiant further says he has heard the said Stark say he was a secessionist, and all his sympathies were with the South."

John M Brock deposed that "Just after the reception of the news of the reverses of the Federal army at Bull Run, the affiant being at the time standing at the entrance of the Bank Exchange in the city of Portland county and State aforesaid, did then and there distinctly hear and see said Benjamin Stark the present Senator of this State to the Congress of the United States, drink a toast in company with a well known secessionist, to the following effect, viz: 'Beauregard' or 'Beau Regard'"

A M Starr made oath that "He has heard said Stark within the last two weeks past say that there was no United States government, that he heard said Stark say at the time the President first called for volunteers that the United States government could not support an army of thirty thousand men in the field for six months, that the people in the loyal States would not back up the Administration in trying to put down this rebellion."

A W Sweet being duly sworn, says that he is personally acquainted with Benjamin Stark, and knows him to be an avowed friend of the Southern Confederacy, that he knows this from personal conversation with said Stark, and that his language is full and explicit and as traitorous as I ever heard any one utter, and without condition."

The following named gentlemen testified to the truth of the averments attached below:

C S Salyer, E Bonnett, F A Hoyt, David Ellison, R B Bingham, Zeph Wertz, Thomas M Kay, T M Arnold, Jacob Cline, William Caples, E D Hutchinson, L Rosenthal, W W Neilson, J Lake, D M Field, Edward Gibson, John Lee, L Besser, C Hay, P J Carlile, Jeremiah Knox, Wm A Low, S J T McFarland, F Harbaugh, Wm Braden, Thomas Stephens, Sprowel Norton, P Flynn, S B Cummins, Israel Graden.

Each being first duly sworn say that they are personally acquainted with Benjamin Stark, of the city of Portland, county and State aforesaid, and that he is well known and generally reputed to be an avowed friend of the Southern Confederacy as against the Union, and believe that he should not be allowed to take his seat in the United States Senate by the appointment he has received from Governor Whitaker, Governor of Oregon, and should be arrested as soon as he arrives in Washington City as a traitor and a spy.

Peter Smith, being first duly sworn, says he "is a resident of the county and State aforesaid, and that he is personally acquainted with Benjamin Stark, of the city of Portland, Oregon, and that affiant has had some conversation with said Stark in reference to the right of secession of the Southern States, and the said Stark argued and maintained that any State had the right to secede from the rest of the Union, and that a county or precinct or town had the right to secede, that there were no constitutional grounds to prohibit them, and no constitutional right to coerce them into submission; and affiant further saith not."

We do not give the testimony of J H Lane, at Washington, because it has been objected to, and as it is not necessary to our purpose.

The depositions were made before Samuel F Barr, of Portland a Justice of the Peace of this city, and that he was duly authorized by law to administer oaths is certified by Shubrick Norris, Clerk of the Circuit Court of Multnomah County. Justice Barr also made affidavit before A. W. Sweet, Esq, Notary Public of Portland, to this effect:

"That he is personally acquainted with Benjamin Stark, and each of the parties who have made their affidavits before him, and that he knows them each to be trustworthy and reliable men, good and loyal to the country, and of unimpeachable veracity, and that the facts stated by them are true, as he verily believes."

We venture to say that no sensible and honest man who reads this evidence can deny that Benjamin Stark, previous to his appointment as United States Senator, and when he was appointed a United States Senator, was "disloyal to the Government." Of this the evidence is too palpable to admit of the shadow of a doubt. This evidence has been placed on the records of Government, and there it will stand forever.

Mr Stark's organ here publishes the documents of which we have here presented the substance, AND DEFENDS THEM. It pronounces him a democrat, and THE WORTHY LEADER OF THE DEMOCRACY OF OREGON. As the defender of Mr Stark, it advocates the election of the ticket made up by the secessionists at Corvallis. And it is constantly averring that OUR NATIONAL UNION IS BROKEN UP, and that, AS A NECESSITY, derived from this fact, WE HAVE NO NATIONAL GOVERNMENT, and that growing out of this arises another necessary fact, THAT OREGON OWES NO ALLEGIANCE TO A UNION THAT DOES NOT EXIST. True these things are kept as far out of sight as possible, by specious statements and arguments, lest they should shock the sensibilities of honest citizens, nevertheless, they are the legitimate results of Mr Stark's principles and the metaphysical disquisitions of the Advertiser to sustain them and the general doctrines of the disloyalists of Oregon.

THE PROSE AND POETRY OF REBELLION.—It will be remembered that Wigfall, the whisky drinking rebel Senator from Texas, just before leaving the United States Senate, made a speech whilst he was swallowing a gallon of whisky punch, in which he vaunted that he left Washington as a traitor, and that—

> When I come again
> I come with banner blood and fire
> And the darkies shall be mere food for—

The fellow was in good earnest, he had then only tasted the poetry of rebellion. Recently he has been dealing in its sturdy prose. His "bow" is now broken, his banner is torn and trampled in the mud of Pittsburg and Donelson, nothing is left him but the proxy "brand" of traitor, and with this we trust he may soon "come again" and be hanged.—Stockton Independent.

The following are the nominations made by the Jackson County Union Convention held May 3d. For Senator—Jacob Wagner. Representatives—Lindsay Applegate, S D Van Dyke, and J D Haines.

Items.

The brave Union soldier who carried captive the heart of a beautiful and wealthy heiress in Richmond, and is soon to be married to her, is Sergeant Moulton, of New Haven, of third regiment. He was taken prisoner at Bull Run, sent to Richmond, and attracted the notice of the young lady, who supplied the object of her affection with clothing, luxuries and money, exchanged communications with him and has eloped from the rebel capital in order to share his fortunes.

The life of Reuben Davis, of the Kentucky Fifth, was saved at Fort Donelson by a silver half dollar in his waistcoat pocket—a rifle ball struck the coin and destroyed the figure of Liberty. Another soldier had the case of his watch, which he wore in his vest pocket immediately over his heart, torn away by a canister shot, and the watch still continued to keep time.

A trial of steel projectiles on an iron target has been made at Pittsburg, and demonstrates that pointed steel balls will prove too much for any armor for vessels that has been constructed. The Pittsburg Chronicle says: The steel balls penetrated nearly through the massive iron target, tearing and scattering it at every discharge, while the cast iron balls broke in fragments on striking, and scarcely made an indentation on the plate.

Col Fuller, formerly editor of the New York Mirror, has been announced in a London paper to deliver a lecture in the British metropolis, advocating the secession cause. In 1856 he supported Col Fremont for President.

New York City has appropriated $500,000 for putting her harbor into the best possible state of defence. The State will add as much more.

THE INDIANS IN TENNESSEE.—A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette furnishes that paper with some interesting reports of what he saw and heard on a trip up the Cumberland river on one of the government steamers. We quote:

Every cabin door we open as we pass, and in every one a woman's fluttering handkerchief is seen. Everywhere women, children, and negroes crowd to the banks to see steamboats once more plowing the neglected stream and wave their welcome back to commerce and the flag. But for dozens of miles not a white man is to be seen. They have either been driven by the rebels, or are of doubtful loyalty, and deem it prudent to keep out of the way. There are two marked exceptions. Eddyville, a pleasant little river town, perched on the bluffs some forty yards above the stream, runs up the stars and stripes as we approach, and gray-haired men are seen at their landing, waving their hats, and shouting and cheering till the tears run down their aged cheeks. And at Canton, long before we reach the place, a rugged-featured, butternut clothed farmer is seen on the bank, shouting till one would think him crazy. 'I've been ground down,' he yells in an ecstacy of delight, 'I've not dared to speak a word. I've been threatened with hanging, but I knew it would all come right, glory to God, it has come!' And more shouts, and ecstatic hat waving, while the boys cheer the fine fellow as if they were splitting their throats.

Three or four women are seen at a cabin door waving their handkerchiefs. A soldier carefully reconnoiters, and at last announces 'boys, there's a gal up there that's got hoops on!' Three cheers for the gal with hoops in this country?' And the gal with the hoops gets three stunning cheers.

At a forlorn looking little cabin on the other bank a woman appears, broom stick in hand, and for want of handkerchief, shakes her house wife's weapon aloft. "God bless you," shouts an enthusiastic old Major, who stands perched on the top of the pilot-house "you and your children, and your children's children forever. You're one of the right sort. Three cheers for the woman with the broom stick. Hail Columbia!" And then the old Major, unable to contain his feelings longer in mere words, goes off in a prolonged "Youp, youp, youp!" to which the lads on deck gave lusty response.

A SOUTHERN BELLE WHO COULD NOT WRITE.—A letter from the Tennessee river expedition relates the following rich incident:—"While the steamboat Intrepid was lying at Patriot, a town 20 miles below Savannah, many of the passengers went on shore and strolled through the streets, as is usual in such cases. Among these was Lieut Tidrick, of Company G, 3d Iowa, who is something of an admirer of the gentler sex. During his walk he noticed the door of a house standing open and a beautiful young lady, the daughter of a man who owns seventy negroes, standing in the doorway. The Lieutenant became suddenly weary and invited himself in to rest awhile, to which the young lady made no objection but appeared highly pleased with the attention shown her by the handsome Lieutenant. Their conversation embraced a variety of topics, the tete a tete was delightful to both parties, and no one knows what would have been the result of it had not the Intrepid's bell just then interrupted the lovers, for they had already become such, and warned them that they must part, for a time at least. As the Lieutenant was taking a sorrowful leave of his new friend, she asked him soblingly whither the army was going. 'To New Orleans,' replied he. 'I have friends there, won't you have them spared for my sake?' 'Most certainly, Miss—. There, don't cry; but you must write your name on this blank card (handing her one) so that I can show it to your friends and let them know that I have seen you.' 'Yes,' said she, 'I would do that but—I never went to school, and have never been taught to write. I shouldn't wonder if I could spell it for you!' Tidrick has been on the sick list ever since.

HEAVY DECLINE IN COTTON.—A letter from Havre, by the Anglo Saxon at New York, says:

In consequence of the news of Union victories in the Southwest, and rumors that cotton was already on the way from America to this country, prices have fallen nearly eight francs.

The idea of firing guns under water is not new. A recent number of the Scientific American says: Another project supposed by many to be new at the present day is that of submarine artillery batteries—firing guns under water. This invention also engaged Fulton's attention. He several times fired a four pounder, submerged three feet in the waters of the Hudson, and on one occasion he also fired a hundred pounder situated at the same depth. With such a battery he proposed to fire into the hulls of enemies' war vessels under their water lines, and thus sink them. Such submarine batteries were designed to be carried in war vessels, and when required they were to be hung and slung over their sides, and submerged." The advantage that the invention recently brought forward probably has lain in the method of mounting and regulating the guns beneath the water line.

THE DAILY OREGONIAN may be had at the Franklin Book Store, opposite the Post Office

A NEW KIND OF GLOVES —Messrs Kings & Ross, Saddlers, are making a number of mittens out of harness leather for the use of the unruly insane in the Asaylum. The hands of the unfortunate are placed in these mittens and strapped to the wrist, and consequently they are unable to use their hands for mischief. These mittens are considered an improvement on the "straight Jacket."

CHINESE FIGHT —A couple of Chinamen had quite a little "set to" on First street yesterday afternoon, to the great amusement of the "melliean" spectators. They were finally separated by one of their mutual friends.

UNDER WATER —We learn that the trail to the Dalles is under water.

IMPROVEMENTS —Go where you will about the city and you will notice all sorts of improvements going on. Old houses are getting repaired and new ones are being built.

NO DROUTH YET —By the way of settling the dust and keeping the ground moist, we had quite a copious fall of 'Oregon mist' yesterday.

A SUGGESTION —We would suggest to those who are in the habit of getting drunk and staggering along the sidewalks, that if they would take the middle of the street, they would not offend lady pedestrians by their staggering propensities. We say this much lest a similar scene to one which occurred yesterday may not occur again.

We publish a letter which we received from a number of gentlemen whose names are attached thereto. Many of them are known to many of our citizens. As far as we can ascertain, we learn that the party went to the Upper Cascades on a small boat, and were landed on the Washington side of the river, with the expectation of finding a good road and grass for their stock to the Dalles, and were disappointed in both.

UPPER CASCADES, May 6th, 1862.

To the citizens of Portland:

The undersigned, feeling a little sympathy for those below that are bound for the Dalles, think it to be our duty to say to one and all, that by the old line for the present at least. We have been here a number of days, and only knows how much longer it will be before we get off. The trail is covered with water, and no prospect of leaving by the trail. Some of us have wished ourselves on the other side more than once. The grass is very scarce on this side, with some four or five hundred head of stock on it and more coming daily.

We would publish and oblige the traveling community.

The sudden changes of our climate are productive of CATARRH, BRONCHIAL, and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Having proved that simple remedies are the best and certainly when taken in the early stages of disease, we would recommend to all that should at once be had to Wistar Brothers' Troches or Lozenges let the Cold be ever so slight or the Cough or Soreness of the Throat be ever so slight as by a neglect of these symptoms more serious attack may be effectually prevented. Soreness and Hoarseness and Sinuous will find them very beneficial in clearing and strengthening the voice. Sold at 25 cents per box.

Medical and Surgical Institute.—DR. J. CRAPKAY is already secured in a position in this city, as well as its proprietor far above the ordinary and professional malice. In the schools of Europe prizes are often awarded to practitioners of medical science and they occupy, with a lofty position in the profession. Record example, a shining light among the philosophers of his age in Europe, and Dr Crapkay has fully established in this country as a proof of which the Royal Academy of Medicine complimented him with a honorary or sundeous degree. Selecting this specialty, although qualified as a graduate of the 7th and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian army for more extended labors, Dr Crapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of diseases in which he has become so great a master as now regarded as the leading authority in this profession throughout the United States, and his biography are published as matter of interest in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor has at his Medical and Surgical Institute on the corner of Leidesdorff nearly opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Company San Francisco particular attention of our readers to the list of remarkable cures, in another column of this paper not wishing to lose time in correspondence. Write to them in their letters, and they will get immediate answers. Address, L. J. CRAPKAY, [illegible] Cal. jun-26-1y-wly

Information of James B. Hughes Wanted.

JAMES B. HUGHES is supposed to have been a resident of Portland Oregon for about two years past has friends in Michigan have not heard from him. A short time since it was understood by a fellow Michiganian that he had died some time about the latter part of March 1861 and that he left a large amount of property. If any one knows where a short and thick set man of dark complexion is employed and by occupation a lumber-dealer and commission merchant, owning extensive lumber and planing mills—His present age, if he were living would be about forty one years. He went to California in 1849. His former residence was Chicago Ill. It is supposed that he left a wife and two children, but that they are since deceased.

Should any citizen of Oregon or Washington Territory or California, possess any knowledge of this James B. Hughes and will communicate the same to the editor of this paper or the undersigned, a great favor will be conferred which will be duly acknowledged.

The Three Travelling-Bags.

(Concluded.)

At the end of the conference with his principal, the Doctor, advancing to the Captain conferred with him Then the Captain conferred with his principal Then the Second conferred with each other Finally, it was formally agreed between the contending parties that a statement should be drawn up in writing, whereby Principal No 1 tendered the assurance that the offensive words 'You are a liar' were not used by him in any personal sense, but solely as an abstract proposition, in a general way, in regard to the matter of fact under dispute To which Principal No. 2 appended his statement of his high gratification at this candid and honorable explanation, and unqualifiedly withdrew the offensive words "You are a scoundrel," they having been used by him under a misapprehension of the intent and purpose of the remark which preceded them

There being no longer a cause of quarrel the duel was of course ended The principals shook hands, first with each other, and next with the seconds, and were evidently very glad to get out of it

"And now that is so happily settled," said the Doctor, chuckling and rubbing his hands "it proves to be a lucky mistake, after all that we brought the wrong valise Wonder what the lady that owns it will say when she opens ours and finds the pistols?"

"Very well for you to laugh about," growled the Captain; "but it's no joke for me to lose my pistols. Hair triggers—best English make, and gold mounted. There ain't a finer pair in America."

"Oh, we'll find 'em. We'll go on a pilgrimage from house to house, asking if any lady there has lost a night cap and found a pair of duelling-pistols?"

CHAPTER IV.

In very good spirits, the party crossed the river, and inquired at the baggage room in reference to each and all black leather travelling-bags arrived that day, took notes of where they were sent, and set out to follow them up In due time they reached the Continental, and, as luck would have it, met the unhappy bridal pair just coming down stairs in charge of the policeman.

"What's all this?" inquired the Captain

"Oh, a couple of burglars, caught with a valise full of stolen property"

"A valise!—what kind of a valise?"

"A black leather valise. That's it, over there."

"Here! Stop! Hallo! Policemen! Landlord! It's all right. You're all wrong That's my valise. It's all a mistake. They got changed at the depot. This lady and gentleman are innocent. Here's their valise, with her nightcap in it."

Great was the laughter, multifarious the comments, and deep the interest of the crowd in all this dialogue, which they appeared to regard as a delightful entertainment, got up expressly for their amusement

"Then you say this 'ere is yourn!" said the policeman, relaxing his hold on the bridegroom, and confronting the Captain.

"Yes, it's mine."

"And how did you come by the spoons?"

"Spoons, you jackanapes!" said the Captain. Pistols—dueling pistols!"

"Do you call these pistols?" said the policemen, holding up one of the silver spoons marked "T. B."

The Captain, astounded, gasped, "It's the wrong valise again, after all!"

"Stop! Not so fast!" said the policeman functionary, now invested with great dignity by the importance of the affair he found himself engaged in. "If so be as how you've got this 'ere lady's valise, she's all right, and can go. But, in that case, this is yourn, and it comes on you to account for them 'ere stolen spoons. Have to take in charge, all four of ye."

"Why, you impudent scoundrel!" roared the Captain; "I'll see you —. I wish I had my pistols here; I'd teach you how to insult gentlemen!"—shaking his fist.

The dispute waxed fast and furious The outsiders began to take part in it, and there is no telling how it would have ended, had not an explosion followed by a heavy fall and a scream of pain, been heard in an adjoining room.

The crowd rushed to the scene of the new attraction.

The door was fast. It was soon burst open, and the mystery explained. The thief, who had carried off the Captain's valise by mistake for his own, had taken it up to his room, and opened it to gloat over the booty he supposed it to contain, thrusting his hand in after the spoons. In so doing he had touched one of the hair triggers, and the pistol had gone off, the bullet making a round hole through the side of the valise, and a corresponding round hole in the calf of his leg

The wounded rascal was taken in charge, first by the policeman, and then by the doctor; and the duelists and the wedded pair struck up a friendship on the score of their mutual mishaps, which culminated in a supper, where the fun was abundant, and where it would be hard to say which was in the best spirits,—the Captain for recovering his pistols, the bride for getting her night-cap, the Bridegroom for escaping the station house, or the duellists for escaping each other. All resolved to "mark that day with a white stone," and henceforth to mark their names on their black traveling bags in white letters.

MORAL—Go thou and do likewise

A rather good story is told of Lord Palmerston in connection with the American difficulty His Lordship, on leaving the Cabinet Council which had met to deliberate on the matter, was complimented on the decisive policy which the Government had adopted He replied, Well, and had we not done so, the Cunard steamers would have been compelled to advertise, 'Wind, weather, and the American Government permitting'—English Paper

Brig. Gen Phelps, in command at Ship Island, is a very plain man in his dress, and in speech very slow and precise It is said when Colonel French's regiment arrived he walked up to a squad of Capt Kelty's Zouaves, whose peculiar dress attracted his attention, and asked, "What part of the show do you belong to?" "Capt. Kelty's Zouaves, sir," replied one. "Oh, soldiers!" said the General, "I thought you were—circus riders."

Irascible Gent to waiter 'They say there is nothing like leather don't they'' "Yes sir" "Then it's false, for this steak is!" Waiter evaporates.

A HOPEFUL.—"Tommy, my son, what is Longitude?" "A clothes line, dady"—"Prove it." "Because it stretches from pole to pole."

BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION

—AND—

Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction and easily kept in order should make a RIGHT AND LOCK STITCH alike on both sides of the material and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed

It should be able to use cotton, thread, or silk directly from the spool and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin, with rapidity and without changing the tension It should also be able to make the tension greater or less, on both the under and upper threads and with uniformity, and should have a straight needle, curved ones being liable to break

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, should stitch, fell, run and gather, and always ready to work

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored threads or silk above or below to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off the seam, and to commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise

It should have a wheel feed: no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order neither should it require a screw driver or wrench to set the needle

It should not be liable to oil the operator's dress

It should not form a ridge on the under side of the work

Address, DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco

Of all Diseases, the first great cause,
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret disease—Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Joints, diseases of the Lungs, Throat Nose and Eyes Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Fits, Epileptic Fits St Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling Loss of Memory Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness Dyspepsia First Diseases Eruptions upon the Face Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all Improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable causing no sickness, and free from mercury or balsam During fifteen years of practice in Europe the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands who, in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted who may place themselves under my care, a speedy and permanent cure Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health as they are the first cause of consumption a rapid and many other diseases, and should be resorted to the first moment possible. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease, but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury which with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries the disease is entailed upon the children who are born with feeble constitutions and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter ulcers, rheumatism and other affections of the skin eyes throat and lungs, cutting up in them a fated existence of suffering and consigning them to an early grave

Self alone is neither for honor or profit health for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system—drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave It destroys the nervous system rapidly wastes away the energies of life causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system disqualifies for marriage society business and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected and with the absolutest of unanimous pledges my patients can be restored to robust vigorous health

Irregularities, and all diseases of unusual females treated on principles established by fifteen years practice and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures—Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the State, Oregon and Washington Territory, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter

All business correspondence strictly confidential Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute Sacramento street, below Montgomery opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office San Francisco

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificates of three of the sufferers from the ravages of disease, who, having recovered their former health and impelled by great gratitude make known their cases and remedial agents and their statements are authenticated by a Notary Public The demands of society imperiously command their publicity and we come and their promises to the attention of all afflicted

Certificate—The undersigned destitute of acquainting those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly situated, where a permanent relief of their sufferings may be obtained feels it his duty to thus publicly express his sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay for the entire restoration of his health. Being down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practice of the unfortunate gamblers in youth, he resorted to both and found himself unable to perform even the most trifling duty, and in other disagreeable situations of life I sought the advice of many physicians who at first regarded my disease as fulfilling in future—but alas! after a few weeks and in several instances months of their treatment I found myself in a miserable condition of mind, bordering on the verge of despair, alarming in their fortunes and being told by one of my friends (being principally confined to the house medicine would be of little consequence) I despaired of ever regaining my health strength and energy and as a last resort and with but a faint hope called on Dr Czapkay who after examining my case, prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head. Encouraged by the result I resolved to place myself immediately under his care and by strict obedience to all his directions and advice my head became clear and my ideas collected, their instant return to my back and groins the weakness of my limbs the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement the misanthropy and evil forebodings the self distrust and want of confidence in others, the incapability to study, and want of resolution, the frightful, sighing, and sadness pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have disappeared and in fact in two months after having commenced the doctor I felt as if inspired by a new life—but a short time ago I contemplated to sell by the hand With the view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. L. J. Czapkay and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience, as well as under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected

B. F. HILL.

State of California, County of San Francisco: ss.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this seventh day of April, A. D 1856 Signed

[L. S.] JOHN MIDDLETON, Notary Public.

Marysville, July 31 1856

DR L. J CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Sir: I have taken the last of your medicine and do not think I need any more, for I feel very well except that I have not got my strength yet, but soon will with the blessing of God It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I left your institute, with my constitution, as I thought, ruined entirely, and never thought you could be able to restore me perfectly but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my nerves, so that I would not get excited and worry at nothing Now that you know what I expected, I will give you a full judge of my satisfaction in my complete recovery from all my symptoms and the removal of those sores and humors from my skin and the ulcers from my throat, and the cause of my sickness I can hardly tell you which is the greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except not having got my strength, I feel as well as any man can be

Inclosed I send you twenty dollars over your demand, think myself cheaply cured If you think anyone can be benefitted you may put this letter in the newspapers, I remain gratefully yours, THOMAS [illegible]

Thankfulness is the Incentive to Gratitude.

CAUTIONARY.—Prompted by an honest desire to benefit others, I wish to say before the public a case which deserves more than a mention not only as an act of scientific skill, but as a benefit to humanity also About two years ago, I contracted a disease (the causes unknown to me, was seized with a fit of sickness, which, owing to my inability to meet the expense consequent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the mistaken assignment which I met with on attempting it, (for such I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of any physician I was frequently, while in pursuit of employment, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning, and although insensible to the agonies, I yet dreaded the miseries of my life and soon learned to look upon death as a welcome would render assistance or shelter me from the storm, but those who sought to prolong the existence of my miserable life While in this state and having, previous to my sickness, tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to seek the hand of a physician and, by recommendation, called upon Dr L J Czapkay I told him of my disease and of my inability to reward him for his services, a part of which, however, he at once undertook my cure, and with the blessing of God I was once more restored to perfect health Unable to reward him for the boon which I then received and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I feel it due to myself and all afflicted, to make the above statement, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.
